

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD PROPOSAL IN FP7

28 September 2012

SISSA - Scuola Internazionale Superiore di Studi Avanzati

Via Bonomea 265, Trieste

Conference Room (n. 128-129), I floor

The objective of the training session is to present an overall methodology in order to structure a good and sound project proposal for calls in the Framework Programme. By understanding how the Programme works, focus will be given on how to fulfill all criteria and thus optimising the chances of success.

Course held by Martina De Sole - National Contact Point for the Cooperation Programme - Nanosciences, nanotechnologies, materials & new production technologies (NMP), from APRE -
Agency for the Promotion of European Research in Rome

Morning Session

- | | |
|---------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9.30 - 11.00 | Introduction to EU FP7
Programme Structure and Specific Programmes Objectives, Rules for participation
How to read and decode the calls for proposals and EC work programme to understand the EC's expectations and angle your project accordingly
Overview of the last calls 2013 |
| 11.00 - 11.15 | Coffee break |
| 11.15 - 13.00 | How to write a good proposal
How to structure a proposal, Part A and Part B of the proposal
Methodology, tips and key recommendations to ensure the qualitative drafting of a research project
The new SEP platform (Submission and Evaluation of proposals) |

Afternoon session

- | | |
|---------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 14.30 - 15.30 | The evaluation process
Evaluation phases, evaluation criteria and analysis |
| 15.30 - 16.30 | Looking forward to Horizon 2020: x days to the launch of the new programme for Research and Innovation
Advance information on the Programme structure, general objectives and priorities |